RETAIL REDEFINED

Your Body Experience

A new reason to visit. A personal reason to return.

Envisioned retail experience

PHYSICAL AI MEETS THE CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE

Bring AI-powered body and movement insights into your space. Turn curiosity into personal conversations, paid services and opportunities for repeat business.

More reasons to step inside

An experience customers can explore, discuss and return to.

A Visbody Experience Zone gives your store a visible point of discovery. Pair a guided assessment with a personal conversation about the customer's goals.

Run & Discover

Use Creator600 for a guided running-form session, then offer footwear try-ons and a conversation with a trained associate.

Scan & Shop

Offer a paid M60 assessment, with an optional credit toward a qualifying purchase. Set clear offer terms.

Community that returns

Host run-club assessment days. Invite customers back for a booked follow-up and new product discoveries.

Creator600 AI treadmill

AI-assisted running-form and gait analysis adds a bookable experience to the sneaker department.

M60 body assessment

3D body visualization, body composition, circumference and posture insights support a personal wellness consultation.

Revenue opportunities

Assessment fees, footwear and apparel purchases, accessories and coaching packages. Custom orthotic fitting requires a separate assessment.

Make progress part of the experience

A personal starting point. An ongoing connection to your studio.

Create a welcoming consultation area beside your studio and boutique. Give instructors a visual starting point for discussing movement goals and following progress over time.

New Member Discovery

Bundle an introductory assessment with a private session. Help each client identify a clear next step.

Progress Membership

Include scheduled reassessments in class or coaching packages, with time to review progress together.

Studio-to-Style Events

Pair instructor-led activities with assessment appointments and activewear shopping. Invite local wellness partners.

T55 4D assessment

Connect body composition and 3D posture with fundamental movement and physical fitness assessments.

M60 as an alternative

Offer body composition, posture and circumference insights when a body-focused consultation suits your studio.

Revenue opportunities

Private sessions, class packages, membership upgrades and boutique purchases. Offer reassessments as a reason to reconnect.

A signature wellness experience

Add a personal dimension to the guest journey.

Make Visbody a bookable part of your wellness menu. Pair a private M60 consultation with fitness services, or offer a Creator600 session with a qualified professional.

Packages guests can choose

Offer an assessment and consultation, a running-form session, or a package with personal training and selected spa services.

A relationship beyond the stay

Provide a take-home report and optional follow-up. Invite local residents into a membership with periodic reassessments.

Five ways to build revenue

Paid assessments, coaching bundles, recurring memberships, relevant retail purchases and private group experiences.

More places to redefine

Cruise wellness centers, golf and racquet clubs, sports performance studios and department-store activewear areas.
